ADEO chooses Axionable and Sweep to accelerate its positive transformation

ADEO has chosen Axionable and Sweep, the carbon and ESG data management platform to accelerate its transformation into a positive-impact company. This partnership is part of an ambitious programme for ADEO, aimed at accelerating the management of its ESG performance, securing the achievement of its commitments and its climate trajectory, and anticipating compliance with CSRD regulations.

A strategic and ambitious ESG performance project

For ADEO, this partnership is part of an initiative to industrialise extra-financial data and accelerate its ESG performance programme.

The aim is to use a tool to centralise data from the various applications in the IT ecosystem, via reliable interfaces and APIs, in order to empower ADEO users at corporate and business levels.

For Clara Lorinquer, ADEO's Global Leader in charge of Positive Impacts, 'The positive transformation of our company relies on our ability to make the analysis of our ESG performance just as solid and rigorous as the measurement of our economic and commercial performance. Managing our ESG performance is much more than a compliance issue: it's about being able to act in the right places with clear objectives and building a resilient, forward-looking organisation.'

Axionable and Sweep's response

Axionable, a consultancy specialising in accelerating sustainable transformations, by relying on Sweep, the carbon and ESG data management platform, will configure more than 120 indicators, integrate historical data and set up dashboards and reports available at all levels of the company, enabling ADEO to manage its ESG performance effectively and in line with the highest market standards.

For Rachel Delacour, CEO and co-founder of Sweep, 'Today, companies aspire to transform their commitments into concrete actions to boost both their economic performance and their sustainable impact. However, many feel helpless when faced with the complexity of their sustainability data. At Sweep, we enable organisations to map their impact in real time so they know how best to reduce it, and to meet extra-financial regulatory requirements at the click of a button. We are proud that ADEO has chosen Sweep and our partner Axionable to accelerate its positive transformation'.

Gwendal Bihan, CEO and co-founder of Axionable, added:

'We are proud to support ADEO in its journey towards positive transformation. By combining our consulting expertise with the power of the Sweep solution, we will enable ADEO to monitor and improve its ESG performance in a rigorous and efficient way. This partnership marks an important step towards a more sustainable economy.'
